

CONVERSATION PROMPTS

At On The Table Central Georgia, hosts have the flexibility to guide their conversations in a way that works best for them. Some prefer to let conversations unfold naturally, using some or all of our general conversation prompts. Others may have a specific topic they want their guests to discuss. Additionally, if you'd like to tackle one or more of the pressing issues that were identified in last year's On The Table conversations, we've compiled a list of conversation prompts to help you get started. You can choose to discuss one, a few, or all of the prompts – it's completely up to you! Our only requirement is that you come to the table and engage in meaningful conversation with each other. Let's create a space where everyone's voices can be heard and valued.

GENERAL

- 1. How might we leverage the strengths of Central Georgia to enhance our community?*
- 2. How might we identify and address the most critical issue or opportunity in our community or neighborhood?*
- 3. How might we inspire and motivate more people to get involved in the community and/or their neighborhood?*
- 4. How might we address the needs and opportunities in Central Georgia, and what role can individuals and collective action play in that effort?*
- 5. How might we collaborate to tackle a specific problem facing our community?*
- 6. How might we make a meaningful impact on our community with just $100 and one day?*
- 7. How might we turn the ideas discussed today into actionable steps to advance our community?*

Open ended questions that can be asked in different conversations

We have compiled a list of questions that reflect the top issues identified as community priorities in the 2020 On The Table survey results. These priorities include:

- POVERTY, ECONOMIC SECURITY, AND HUNGRY FAMILIES*
- JOB AVAILABILITY AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT*
- CRIME, VIOLENCE, AND PUBLIC SAFETY*
- RACE RELATIONS*
- PHYSICAL HEALTH*
- HOUSING ISSUES*
